Local puppet show outstanding display of creative genius

The performance of "The Legend of La Befana" was one of the most amazing displays of local talent that I have ever witnessed in Asheville. To those folks who have not seen a puppet performance by Lisa Sturz, of Fairview, I recommend that they watch carefully for future performances and treat themselves, their children and grandchildren to a totally beautiful creative experience. Hand puppets, shadow puppets, rod puppets and brilliant black light images (more than 50 in all) combined to tell a moving adaptation of the Christmas legend of the journey of the Magi and the woman who followed them to Bethlehem. We have to be so proud to have this kind of artistic genius in our midst.
